

PromoCollection Anti Corruption and Bribery Policy

Our Commitment

At PromoCollection, we pride ourselves on the reputation that we have established in our industry, and the integrity that is the core of our business. We have an internal zero tolerance policy to any bribery and corruption. This ties in strongly with our company values, professionalism and transparency.

Bribery and Corruption not only distorts legitimate business activities, but opens our company and employee up to significant legal and commercial risks. Wherever we operate around the world, we always comply with local laws

Our Strategy

We achieve our goal by:

- Never offering, paying, or soliciting or accepting bribes in any form (including facilitation payments)
- Never offering or accepting an item of money, or monetary value, as a token of appreciation, that may be believed will offer favoritism
- Not engage in any type of corrupt business practice
- Providing critical anti-bribery and corruption training and awareness to all staff
- Undertake periodic assessments and audits to detect, and deal with instances of non compliance with the above policy

Responsibility

It is the responsibility of all PromoCollection employees, contractors, suppliers and associated entities, to understand and abide by this policy.

Any questions should be directed to:
info@promocollection.com.au